Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to communication filed on 9/2/2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 166-167 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims do not recite what type of technology is being used to carry out the claimed invention.

Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-2, 9-25, 30-31, 39-41, 43-44, 46-49, 56, 58-59, 61, 62, 70, 72-74, 87, 95, 144-153, 162-167 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Von Kohorn (5,368,129 hereinafter Von Kohorn).

With respect to claims 1, 2, 9-10, 12-25, 30-31, 39-41, 43, 44, 46-49, 56, 58, 59, 61, 62, 70, 72, 73, 74, 87, 94, 95, 144-153 Von Kohorn teaches a method for changing a benefit associated with a coupon (Abstract). Establishing an initial benefit for a coupon (col. 9, lines 11-33); establishing a benefit variation condition for said coupon, said benefit variation condition having at least one associated qualifying action (col. 9, lines 11-33); receiving, via an electronic communication network, notice of a completion of said at least one qualifying action (col. 9, line 34-42); and updating said coupon's benefit in accordance with said benefit variation condition (col. 9, lines 34-42); wherein said qualifying action is associated with a primary recipient of the coupon (col. 9, lines 11-33).

With respect to claims 11, 62-167, Von Kohorn teaches a method for changing a benefit associated with a coupon (Abstract). Establishing an initial benefit for a coupon (5-20 % discount)(col. 9, lines 28-33); establishing a benefit variation condition for said coupon, said benefit variation condition having at least one associated qualifying action (i.e. the benefit variation based on the sale of strawberries)(col. 9, lines 33-40); and via a processing device, updating said coupon's benefit in accordance with said benefit variation condition unless a notice is received that said at least one qualifying action has not been completed (i.e. automatically changing the percentage of strawberry discount of 5-20% unless a notice is received that the strawberries are not being selling satisfactorily, in that case further changing the discount to an additional 20-40 %)(col. 9, lines 28-42).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3-8, 25-29, 32-38, 50-55, 57, 60, 63-69, 71 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Von Kohorn.

Claims 3-8, 32-35, 37, 50-54, 57, 60, 63-69, further recite updating benefit of said coupon in association with a first recipient of said coupon and said qualifying action is associated with a second recipient of said coupon, wherein said second recipient is a downstream recipient of said first recipient; providing an indication to said first recipient of a completion of said qualifying action by said second recipient. Official notice is taken that it is old and well known in chain referral sales, multi-level business pyramids or the like for a seller to induce a buyer to purchase merchandise by promising to give the buyer a discount or a rebate if the buyer furnishes the seller with the names of other prospective buyers. In certain cases, the rebate is paid only if the seller actually makes a sale to those other buyers. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to have included updating benefit of said coupon in association with a first recipient of said coupon and said qualifying action is associated with a second recipient of said coupon, wherein said second recipient is a downstream recipient of said first recipient; providing an indication to said first recipient of a completion of said qualifying action by said second recipient in order to obtain the above mentioned advantage.

Claims 25-29, 36, 38, 55 further recite changing the coupon amount if said coupon is redeemed within a predetermined time and said amount is less than the first amount. Official notice is taken that it is old and well known in marketing to start with a higher discount and to decrease with time. For example, certain establishments have a lower introductory price on a product or service within a predetermined periods and then changing the price to the regular price in order to induce the customer to try the product or service within the trial period. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to have included changing the coupon amount if said coupon is redeemed within a predetermined time and said amount is less than the first amount in order to obtain the above mentioned advantage.

Claim 71 further recites crediting a financial account associated with the first recipient if said benefit of said coupon increases after said recipient has redeemed said coupon. Official notice is taken that it is old and well known to credit an account of a customer if a condition takes place after a transaction has been completed. For example, certain establishments will guarantee low prices to their customer by sending or crediting an account of a customer if a sale has taken place after the customer has bought a product. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to have included crediting a financial account associated with the first recipient if said benefit of said coupon increases after said recipient has redeemed said coupon in order to obtain the above mentioned advantage.

Response to Arguments

8. After carefully reviewing the claims, the Examiner has found that examining all the claims wasn't a serious burden to the examiner.
